Foreign Intelligence,

Received by the Eliza Capt. Colley, arrived at Norfolk, in 8 weeks from London.

VIENNA, Auguſt 10.

All the ſtates of Italy, who obſerved a neutrality with regard to France, muſt now join the coalition of powers. Genoa from her ſituation, will endeavour to avoid it; but Italy is ſurrounded by the Engliſh and Spaniſh fleets.

The Swiſs cantons have contracted a loan with our court for ten millions, at five per cent.

The war, it is ſuppoſed, will not be ſupported by any freſh taxes. A treaty it is ſaid, is now on the carpet for a loan of 40 millions of florins, to defray the expence of a third campaign.

PARIS. Auguſt 18.

Charles Joſeph Leſeuyer, aged 49 years, Marſhall de camp, accuſed of having received orders from Dumourier to arreſt the Citizen Belle grade, deputy Commiſſioner to the army of the north, was condemned by the Revolutionary Tribunal and executed on the ſame evening at ſeven o'clock.

When he arrived at the place of execution his reſolution failed him—he fainted and was carried to the Guillotine.

General Houchard, who a few days ago was appointed to be commander in chief of the army of the North, has been denounced to the Jacobins by one Grouſt, who calls him the confidential friend and right arm of Cuſtine.

A letter from Soumur, of the 13th inſtant, ſtates, that the Royaliſts are aſſembling in great force at Chatillon and Chollet, and their forces amounted to between 40 and 50,000 men.

The combined armies approach Lorrain, and ſeem to have renounced their deſign of attacking Landau.

Garat, the Miniſter for the home department, gives in his reſignation, and propoſes to conduct a daily newſpaper. The Jacobins however, have already denounced him as a protector and abettor of ariſtocrats, which may ſtop him in his career.

Letters from Marſeilles of the 7th, ſtate that the departmental troops have forced General Cartaux to retreat from the height of Lambeſc,

The monſter Egalite continues to be very narrowly guarded in the ſquare tower of St. Jean; his youngeſt ſon, and the reſt of the Bourbon family, are confined in the ſame fort, but they enjoy a kind of decent liberty.

Adjutant-General Lamberriere has been arreſted at Perpignan, and conducted to the citadel of Montpelier, he is a particular friend of General Fiers.

The following ſtate of the forces of the Republic has been publiſhed by order of the Executive Council, in the Miniſterial Gazette:

1. Army of the North,	120,565
2. Ardennes,	40,132
3. Moſelle,	83,268
4. Rhine,	114,577
5. Alps,	40,489
6. Italy,	29,275
7. Eaſtern Pyrenees,	24,446
8. Weſtern ditto,	31,000
9. Court of Rochelle,	41,110
10. Coaſt of Breſt,	32,419
11. Coaſt of Cherſbourg,	15,481
12. Patriotic army before Lyons,	12,000
13. Ditto on the Banks of the Durance,	38,000
Total,	601,902
Which, adding forces ordered out, produces a grand total of	400,000

"Camp near Dunkirk, Auguſt 24.

"SIR,

"I have the honor in inform you, that his Royal Highneſs marched from Furnes, upon the evening of the 22d, with the beſieging army, in order to attack the camp of Ghivelde, and approaching the town of Dunkirk. He advanced in three columns; the cavalry along the ſtrand, a column of infantry upon the road which leads by the canal directly upon Ghivelde, and a third upon the left. The advanced poſts of the enemy were driven back, with the loſs of two or three men wounded; the night coming on the army halted within a ſhort diſtance of the village of Ghivelde. The enemy abandoned their camp in the night, they afterwards quitted a redoubt, in which they left four iron guns, and the army took up its ground within a league of the town. There was a great deal of firing in the evening, at the advanced poſts in the gardens and enclоſures, which are in front of the camp and upon the Dunes, in which the regiment of Starry and O'Donnel [Auſtrian] had upwards of 50 men killed and wounded: the enemy were driven back, and this morning every thing is quiet. The army will this day approach nearer to the town, and take up the ground which it is to occupy during the ſiege.

The enemy have made an opening in the dyke of the canal between Dunkirk and Bergeus, by which means they can inundate a great part of the country from the ſea. The inundation made a conſiderable progreſs yeſterday, but it made little in the night.

"I am happy to inform you that the field-marſhal Freytag has taken two of the enemy's poſts with 4 pieces of cannon and 60 priſoners, with very little loſs.

"It is not in my power to give a more detailed account of the ſucceſſes of this army.' The field-marſhal will tranſmit an account of his operations as ſoon as his other important occupations will permit.

"It is ſaid that the enemy are ſending conſiderable reinforcements from Liſle to the camp at Caſſel.

"I have the honor to be, &c.

"JAMES MURRAY.

"Rt. Hon. Henry Dundas."

London Gazette, Auguſt 21.

Leſſem ck's Hoek, Auguſt 28.

SIR,

I have the honor to inform you, that his Royal Highneſs intended upon the 24th to attack the enemy, who were ſtill poſted at ſome diſtance from Dunkirk, in order to get poſſeſſion of the ground which it was neceſſary to occupy previous to the ſiege. They haſtened the execution of his deſign by attacking the out-poſts between the canal of Furnes and the ſea. Lieut. General Dalton advanced with the reſerve, which was encamped upon that ſide, to their ſupport. The enemy were repulſed and driven, with loſs, into the town. One piece of cannon and a few priſoners were taken. The ardor of the troops carried them further in the purſuit than was intended, ſo that they came under the cannon of the place, by which means a conſiderable loſs has been ſuſtained. This was likelier to happen, and more difficult to be prevented, from the nature of the country, which is covered with trees and ſtrong enclоſures.

Lieut. Gen. Dalton was killed with a cannon ſhot towards the concluſion of the attack. The loſs of this excellent officer muſt be ſeverely felt. The courage and ability, which he has diſplayed in the courſe of many campaigns, raiſed him to the higheſt rank of eſtimation in the army in which he ſerved.

His Royal Highneſs has likewiſe to lament that of Colonel Eld, of the Coldſtream regiment and of other valuable men.

The troops behaved with their uſual courage. The two Britiſh battalions which were engaged were commanded by Colonel Leigh and Major Mathews, and the grenadier battalion of the Heſſians by Lieut. Col. Wormb. His Royal Highneſs is particularly ſenſible of the exertions of Major-General Abercrombie and Major-General Verneck, who were with the advanced guard, as likewiſe of thoſe of Lieut. Gen. Wormb.

The army have taken up the ground which his Royal Highneſs intended they ſhould occupy: the advanced poſts within a ſhort diſtance of the town.

I have the honor to be, &c.

JAMES MURRAY.

P. S. In the hurry of making up the laſt diſpatch the names of the two poſts taken by field-marſhal Freytag, and of the bridge could not be inſerted. Thoſe of the former are Warmarthe and Eckleſbech, and the latter Leſternick's Hocke.

The return of the Auſtrians killed and wounded has not yet been received, but is ſuppoſed to be about 170 men.

Right Hon. Henry Dundas, &c. &c. &c.

AUGUST 30.

The French national commiſſioners, who were delivered up by Dumourier to the Prince of Saxe Cobourg, arrived at midnight on the 21ſt, at the fortreſs of Spielberg, from whence they were tranſported to Brunn, in Morabia. Bournonville will follow them immediately, having been detained by illneſs on the road. On entering the fortreſs, the commiſſioners were forced to undreſs themſelves entirely, and other cloths given them. The windows of their priſon have double iron bars; they have a daily allowance of four florins.

Semonville, the French Republican Ambaſſador at Conſtantinople, has been ſeized by the Duke of Milan, in a journey to Venice. In his poſſeſſion 300,000 of livres were found, with an immenſity of jewels, which formerly belonged to the crown of France.

At 12 o'clock laſt night no new accounts had been received from the Britiſh army before Dunkirk.

The opinion that if Dunkirk is taken, Calais will immediately all, is very erroneous. Gravalines and Maurdyck are between them, of which the former is ſtronger than even Dunkirk, being able to inſulate itſelf by an inundation from the river As, of which it has the command.

It is now ſeen for what purpoſe the largeſt Ruſſian fleet ever collected has lately rode in the Baltic. The communication between France and the neutral ports of Denmark and Sweden, is already in effect cut off.

In the laſt account of the proceedings of the National Convention, the War Miniſter having ſtated that their ports were completely blockaded, a member (of Iriſh extraction) immediately moved, "that a variety of articles (ſpecified) ſhould from that moment be prohibited exportation." This was decreed.

BRISTOL PARISH, (Peterſburg) 28th Oct. 1793

THE Reverend Mr. John Cameron, the preſent miniſter of the Proteſtant Epiſcopal Church in this pariſh, being about to remove from the pariſh, and having notified to the Veſtry his intention to vacate it at the end of the year.—We do hereby give notice, that the Veſtry will receive immediately any gentleman who may apply; provided he be duly qualified, agreeable to the canons of the Proteſtant Epiſcopal Church, poſſeſſes a character unexceptionable as a miniſter of that church, and in preaching has a good delivery. The annual emoluments to the miniſter, including perquiſites, will be about £. 120, beſides the uſe of the GLEBE lands; and in addition to theſe advantages a clergyman whoſe capacity and ſituation in life would enable him to undertake and pay proper attention to the inſtruction of youth, might derive conſiderable profit from ſuperintending a ſchool in this town.
